TELL US ABOUT YOURSELF

My name is Milena Donado, I am a wife, a mother of two beautiful young women and a teacher. With over 25 years of experience in teaching religion, I have found immense purpose and joy in my work, which has truly become one of the driving forces of my life. Recently, I have had the privilege to develop a service learning project called “Construyendo Puentes de Dignidad”, that focused on developing tactile educational materials to support the learning experiences of individuals with visual impairments.

TELL US ABOUT YOURSELF

Through hands-on collaboration, seventh-grade students were guided to design and create sensory-rich toys and learning tools tailored to the needs of blind people from Fundavé. This initiative aligns perfectly with my love for teaching and my faith, which both inspire me to make a positive impact. For me, teaching and serving others is more than a profession—it is a calling that fills my life with meaning. I am deeply committed to creating an inclusive environment where faith, empathy, and understanding help bring people together in powerful ways.

HOW HAS MARYMOUNT INFLUENCED YOUR PERSONAL AND/OR PROFESSIONAL LIFE?

Marymount has profoundly shaped my personal growth, strengthening my faith and deepening my passion for teaching. It has nurtured my love for service, empowering me to share these values with my students every day.
